 But the new decade meant a new way of life. Eventually, MLS players ha d enough. Instead of openly complaining, according to USA Today in February 2024 , just before Covid broke out across North America, the league and i ts players's union finally granted the use of charter flights as a part of th eir contracts.

 These brokers pay fees to the MLS for ad ministrative and security costs, so naturally they would not want the MLS to be free and open to the public. There is also the economics. By lockin g down the MLS, brokers and agents maintain a competitive advantage in the knowl edge and information about the local housing market.
